

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

The cuneiform texts published in this volume were copied and autographed during my stay in Philadelphia in the winter of 1913-1914. Nearly all of them are letters belonging to the time of the so-called first Babylonian or Hammurapi dynasty (2225-1926 B. C.).

There are only two (or three) exceptions: the first is an Assyrian abit šarrim (No. 132), addressed to a certain Ardi-Gula. This man seems to be identical with Ardi-Gula of the letter H (=Harper, Assyrian letters), No. 117, mentioning Ašur-bān-apli and Samaš-šum-ukīn (l. 5), by which fact the time of our letter is determined. The other exception is a cone of King Hammurapi, about 17, 3 cm. high, having an inscription as well on the shaft as on the base. Both inscriptions are (as far as they are preserved) identical, though it may be possible, that the inscription on the base¹ was not quite as long as that on the shaft. This text of King Hammurapi, mentioning the building of the (or a) wall of Sippar, is especially interesting by the fact that it is the only official inscription before the time of the king's great victory over Rim-Sin. For a transcription and translation see pp. 30 ff. A third exception may be the letter No. 29, the writing of which might suggest some time at the end of the Hammurapi dynasty; but as well the word ia-a-nu-um, hitherto never found in texts of that period, as the mentioning of the city of *Lubdi*¹, are in favor for a later (Cassite) time. Unfortunately the letter is too badly preserved to settle the question definitely.

Most of the letters published in this volume have been purchased by the Museum from dealers; only the first twenty-nine texts were found during the excavations of the University of Pennsylvania in Nippur. The publication of all these texts had been assigned by the former editor of the Babylonian Expedition, Dr. H. V. Hilprecht, to Dr. A. T. Clay. But the latter very kindly ceded his rights to the present writer and even gave him about twenty copies previously made by him which could be utilized during the preparation of this work. I beg to offer my sincerest thanks to Professor A. T. Clay for his kindness. My thanks are also due to Dr. G. A. Barton, who gave some old Babylonian letters over to me which had been assigned to him. In this way practically the whole amount of old Babylonian letters, preserved in the Museum, could be included in the present volume²: only those not yet cleaned and repaired and some assigned to Dr. A. Poebel which could not be obtained for this collection were not made use of. I even published those letters which were very badly damaged as every little piece of information we can get from the classical time of the Babylonian language seems to be worth while publishing.

¹ This city also occurs in the Cassite letter No. 99 (I. 6) of Radau's collection (BE, XVII, 1) who, however, read ālu_Lu-ut-di-sháki (p. 153) instead of ālu_Lu-up-di šá ki-[....].

² Letter No. 37 published by H. Ranke in BE, VI, 1, No. 32, has been repeated here, especially as the interesting seal inscription was omitted in the first publication.

The letters bought from dealers came from the same source as the contracts published by Dr. H. Ranke and Dr. A. Poebel in BE, VI, 1 and 2 (second part), i.e., Sippar in North Babylonia. It is, of course, often very difficult to determine the place of such a letter by internal evidence only, and it may even be the case that one or the other of them was picked up at another tell; but, on the other hand, these letters are so similar to other letters found at Sippar and so different from those found at Nippur that we may consider their origin as fairly certain.

An attempt has been made to give the letters of the two sections of this volume in historical order. As nearly always internal evidence is the only guide, such an arrangement cannot be considered as absolutely correct, though, on the other hand, the character of the writing and the formulæ of the introduction give some evidence at least for the arrangement. Quite unique are those few letters which mention the king's name in the introductory formula, i.e., No. 75,7f.:

šú-lum-ka ma-bar *ilu*šamaš *ilu*marduk ù be-li-ja am-mi-di-ta-na |
lu da-ri “may thy welfare be lasting before Šamaš, Marduk and my lord Ammiditana,” and No. 90,₁₀f. = 91,₉f.:

šú-lum-ka ma-bar *ilu*šamaš *ilu*marduk | ù be-li-ja am-mi-za-du-ga
 | lu da-ri

There are a few other letters the time of which is determined by a date, namely No. 37 (23d(?) year of Hammurapi) and No. 89 (13th or 17th + a year of Ammisaduga). The latter is especially interesting, because it is expressly called a copy (mehir, l. 42) of a letter which was sent by Ibni-Sin and the judges of Sippar-Amnanum to the king.¹ Another letter mentioning Hammurapi (No. 83,_{1,7}) is only furnishing us with a terminus post quem. The oldest letter in the collection is probably No. 1, a case-tablet with remarkable seal impressions.²

The writing of the letters found at Nippur might, at the first glance, suggest that they are much older than they really are. But when we compare for instance those four letters addressed to the same person Lugâ (No. 5–8) we will find young and old forms of signs even in the same letter which fact clearly shows that the old forms are merely artificial ones. As it is very probable that Agâa or Agâia mentioned in No. 9,₁ and 10,₁₃ is identical with Agâa mentioned in contracts found at Nippur and dated in the time of *Rîm-Sin*³ and Samsuïluna,⁴ and that Nanna-śalasir, the writer of No. 9 is identical with the witness in BE, VI, 2, No. 51,₁₃ (time of Samsuïluna), it is at least probable that most of the letters found at Nippur belong to the reigns of Rîm-Sin or Hammurapi and Samsuïluna. More exact dates are unfortunately not obtainable.

As I am going to give full transcriptions and translations of all these letters in the second part of my “Babylonische Briefe”¹ I will only give a few interesting specimens in the introduction of this volume together with the translation of the remarkable cone of King Hammurapi.

² Cf. the photographic reproduction on pl. XCVII. The case could not be removed without destroying it. Therefore, the letter was not opened.

My thanks are due to the University of Pennsylvania and especially to Provost Dr. Edgar F. Smith, who enabled me to spend the winter in Philadelphia, and also to the Director of the Museum, Dr. George B. Gordon, for his indefatigable assistance during the preparation of this work.

INTRODUCTION

The letters published in this volume may be divided into official and private letters. Official letters are those which are either written by or to a king or high official. There are no letters in our collection written by any king of the Hammurapi dynasty, but there are several official letters which may be considered as addressed to a king. As we mentioned in the Preface,¹ the usual address to the king is simply bēlu (ana bēlija); but from this fact we are not allowed to infer that every letter having the formula ana bēlija is addressed to a king. When we consider letters like BB No. 235, which is addressed ana bēlija, we certainly do not get the impression that the addressee is the king. There are furthermore a good many letters written by women ana bēlija: in this case it is very probable that bēlu simply means the husband.² In most of the cases, it is therefore quite impossible to say whether a letter addressed ana bēlija is written to the king or another high official. Only the contents may give some information in one or the other direction.

OFFICIAL LETTERS

A good specimen of this class is No. 89 of our collection dated in the time of King Ammisaduga.¹ It is written by a certain Ibni-[...] and the judges of Sippar-Amnanum. As several of the letters of King Ammisaduga are addressed to a certain Ibni-Sin, a high official of Sippar², it is very probable that the name broken in our letter has to be supplied as Ibni-[Sin]. The letter is unfortunately damaged, but we can recognize that it is concerned with a reproach of the king to the high officials of Sippar for not having given certain taxes to a tax collector³ of Babylon sent by the king. As we mentioned before, the letter is no original but a copy that had been preserved in the archives of Sippar. It runs as follows.

Another letter sent by Ibni-Sin and the judges of Sippar is No. 102 which is unfortunately badly preserved and carelessly written, many signs and even whole lines (26, 27) being erased. This fact shows that this letter, too, is not the original sent ana bēlini,¹ but a rough draft from which the official letter was copied. This draft was then preserved in the archives of Sippar. The letter runs as follows.

Several letters the envelop of which probably had the address ana bēlija have no introduction at all. One of the most interesting texts of this kind is No. 119, bringing a law-case of a certain Išme-Adad against his brother Muḥaddām before the king. The writer is not mentioned in the text: probably he was a high official (šāpiru?) at the place where the wronged man was living. The letter runs as follows.

¹ Išme-Adad, son of Igmil-Sin, [thy] servant, ² has spoken to me as follows: thus he (has said): ³ “One female slave belonging to those of my father’s house ⁴ I and my brothers ⁵ had given to a merchant for silver. ⁶ Silver for her we had received. ⁷ That slave from the merchant ⁸ I myself had released [and] ⁹ a sealed document concerning her [I have] taken. ¹⁰ For ten years ¹¹ that slave [is living] at my house: ¹² my brothers did not claim her. ¹³ Now, Muḥaddûm, [a brother of mine], ¹⁵ has taken ¹⁴ that slave [at another] place ¹⁶ for himself.”

¹⁶Thus he has spoken to me. ¹⁷[That man] Išme-Adad

¹⁸ is now coming into the presence of my lord. ¹⁹ My lord may hear it from his own lips; ²⁰ his sealed documents he may look at. ²¹ Against Muḥaddūm ²² he may give orders [that] ²³ they shall give back the slave to him (i.e., Išme-Adad).

²⁴ Išme-Adad, thy servant, ²⁶ may pray ²⁵ before Šamaš for the sake of my lord! ²⁷ My lord, in welfare and health ²⁸ enter into the city of Babylon, and then ²⁹ may the splendid revelation of Marduk who loves thee ³⁰ and of Adad, who has created thee, give their benedictions unto thee!

Other letters addressed ana bēlija are Nos. 63, 78, 103, 104, and probably the mutilated texts Nos. 29, 30, 62, 72, 130. Some others having no introduction (Nos. 82, 83, 84, 88, 123, 129) probably had the address ana bēlija on the envelop.

Another kind of official letters are those addressed ana šāpirija “to my governor.” The position of such a šāpiru may best be understood from the text BB, 238 (=CT, IV, 1, 2). In our collection only the badly preserved text No. 70 has the address ana šāpirija.

Some of the letters addressed ana awēlim may be classed under the heading “official letters” (Nos. 66, 68, 69, 75, 76, 77(?), 90–96, 98–101, 111(?)), though it is quite certain that awēlu simply is an honorific title like Sir, Esquire or German “Hochwohlgeboren.” As an example we may give No. 90.

¹⁰ may thy welfare ¹² be perpetual ¹⁰ before Šamaš, Marduk
¹¹ and my lord Ammisaduga!

¹⁸ As to the case of Sin-rîmêni ¹⁴ and Ibni-Adad, his brother, ¹⁵ which ¹⁶ I have investigated ¹⁵ in Sippar-Jahrurum and thereupon ¹⁷ had caused them to draw up a sealed document of their treaty, ²⁰ you had sealed (the document) ¹⁸ with the seal of the priest of the god Šamaš, the priest of the goddess Aya ¹⁹ and your seals. ²¹ The sealed document of that treaty ²² had that man Sin-rîmêni received. ²³ After that man Sin-rîmêni ²⁴ had gone to his destiny (i.e., died), ²⁵ Ibni-Adad, his brother, ²⁶ raised claims against the house of Sin-rîmêni. ²⁷ If one is doubting the seal of the priest of Šamaš, the priest of Aya ²⁸ and your seals, ²⁹ whose seal should be accepted! ³¹ Let them bring before thee ³⁰ that man Ibni-Adad: ³² give orders against him! ³³ An oath shall be put on his lips, that ³⁵ he will raise no claims ³⁴ against the house of Sin-rîmêni, his brother.

PRIVATE LETTERS

Like all old-Babylonian letters the letters referring to private affairs are very important from the linguistic point of view. Rare words and forms occur which can not be found in any historical or religious texts. The Babylonian Grammar especially benefits by the great number of verbal forms of the second person of which those of the plural are the most interesting ones. The rule, established by the present writer,¹ that the ending of the second person of the plural is a and not u, even when it is masculine, is confirmed throughout these letters. There is also a new example of a letter addressed to two women giving a number of those exceedingly rare forms of the second person of the feminine plural. As only one letter so far is known,² besides that in our collection (No. 51), we will give this specimen here in transcription and, as far as it is possible, in translation, too.

³ Omitted by the scribe?

Among the letters referring to business transactions we may select two dealing with the same affair, viz., the famous Luštamar-letters. Both of them (Nos. 46 and 47) were enclosed in envelops which were opened, so that the letters could be read. Their having been preserved together with the envelops is an indication that they were copies kept in the archives. Both envelops are sealed: No. 46 with the seal of a certain Warad-Sin (though the writer is a certain Sin-rimēni), No. 47 with the seal of the writer Ilušu-bâni, son of Ibi-Ilabrat, known also from the Sippar-texts BE, VI, 2, No. 72, l. 3 (21st year of Hammurapi) and BE, VI, 1, No. 50 a: 19 and b: 19 (2d year of Samsuiluna). The last text also mentions a brother of his Sin-rimēni (50 b: 19) who may be identical with the writer of letter No. 46.

Both letters deal with transgressions of the nipâtu-right. As we know from the code of Hammurapi (§§ 114 ff.), a man who had certain claims against another was allowed to take away a slave or even a free person from the household of his debtor, in order to have this person work for him. Such a person was called nipâtu (pl. nipâtu). Evidently Luštamar had taken such a nipâtu from the daughters of a certain Lasi-ili, though his claims already had been satisfied. We read:

ARTHUR UNGNAD—BABYLONIAN LETTERS OF THE HAMMURAPI PERIOD 29

¹⁵ Thus I (replied): ¹⁶ ["To] Nippur to the city of the judges ¹⁷ ye must go; then ¹⁸ they will render you a judgment."

¹⁹ In Nippur the judges rendered a judgment to them: ²⁰⁻²¹ they assigned Ubar-Lulu to the Garden Gate for an oath. ²²⁻²³ Lugatum has not accepted that judgment. ²⁴ [Inquire] into his matter, [in order that] ²⁵ he may not suffer any damage.

A NEW INSCRIPTION OF HAMMURAPI

The cone published here as an appendix (No. 133 = pl. C111 f.) belongs to the oldest collections of the Museum. That this inscription was written during Hammurapi's earlier reign,¹ is shown by the fact that the king does not call himself šar kibrat arba'im "king of the four quarters of the world."² It refers to the building of the wall of Sippar, certainly the same operation which was celebrated by the naming of the king's 25th year: mu bád zimbir^{ki} "year in which the wall of Sippar (was finished)." This building operation probably was begun in the king's 23d year: mu apin bád zimbir^{ki} "year in which the foundation of the wall of Sippar (was laid)." Therefore the whole work took about two years.

The walls of Sippar again collapsed during the last years of the king's reign. He therefore had built them anew and this operation is mentioned in the inscriptions of the British Museum No. 12212 and 12216³ in which the king is called šar kibrat arba'im (l. 4). The same operation was celebrated by naming the king's 43d year mu zimbir^{ki} "year of Sippar."

The inscription published in this volume runs as follows:

Diagram illustrating the layout of a cuneiform tablet. The tablet is divided into four vertical columns. The leftmost column contains numbers (o., 5, 10, Lo. E., R., 15, 20) and letters (A). The middle column contains the first five rows of cuneiform script. The rightmost column contains the last three rows of cuneiform script. The bottom row is blank.

U. E.

The table contains three columns of cuneiform script. The first column has labels O., L. E., R., 5, 10, 20, 25, and U. E. above it. The second column has labels 0., 5, 10, 20, and 25 above it. The third, fourth, and fifth columns have no explicit labels but follow a similar vertical sequence of cuneiform symbols. The script appears to be a list of words or names, likely a lexical table or a list of names from an Assyrian or Babylonian source.

Some of the entries include:

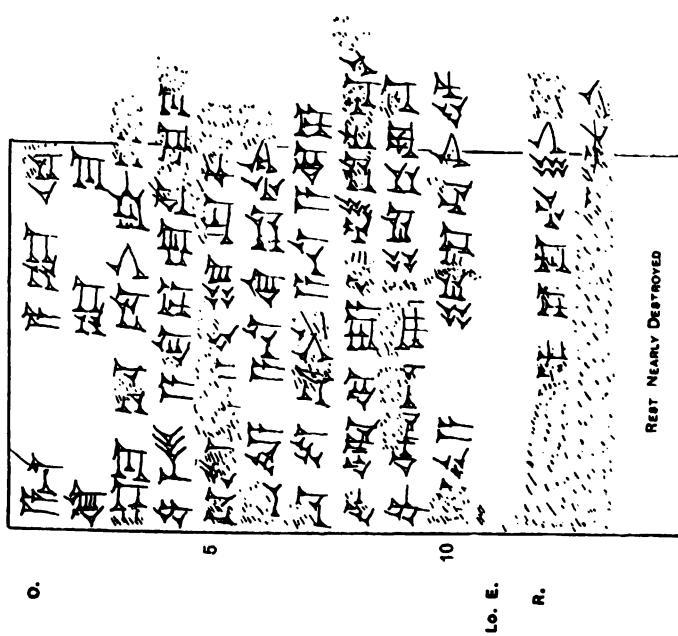

- Line 1: 0. (empty), 5. (empty), 10. (empty), 20. (empty), 25. (empty), U. E. (empty)
- Line 2: 0. (empty), 5. (empty), 10. (empty), 20. (empty), 25. (empty)
- Line 5: 0. (empty), 5. (empty), 10. (empty), 20. (empty), 25. (empty)
- Line 10: 0. (empty), 5. (empty), 10. (empty), 20. (empty), 25. (empty)
- Line 20: 0. (empty), 5. (empty), 10. (empty), 20. (empty), 25. (empty)
- Line 25: 0. (empty), 5. (empty), 10. (empty), 20. (empty), 25. (empty)
